Mod 1:Mod 2:FREE ITEMS/ STORE / NOT DIE Pixel style of the wonderful world, Terraria mobile version of the game image and touch the PC version and the same, using a very advanced 2D pixel image. Join many modern image technologies, such as soft lighting changes and so on. The most beautiful part of the game or the different bPhonephere has different colors, every time you walk into a different bPhonephere, you will feel a clear change in the picture: some bright, some dark cloudy forest. The same goes for in-game music, with different sounds in different environments, but most of the time you have to hear about the title screen and the background music of popular theme songs everywhere. No matter when the rhythm of the game is very easy and fun electronic tones, which is the biggest feature of the game, the overall level of many games becomes much better than many people, each capital can give people a deep impression. Very high level of freedom. The purpose of this is very simple, you can wander aimlessly, build a broken house, live a relaxing life. You can also move towards BOSS challenges, collect resources, kill little BOSS, attract NPCs, build their own castles and villages, embark on a daring adventure. In addition to acquisition and synthesis, another characteristic of the game is of course the high plasticity, without the main line, the development of a completely free world. On the left is snow and ice, walking to the right is a vast desert, down is a dark hell, over the island of the sky, the whole world can destroy and build, go to hell must cut the ground, to go to the island to install the tower of heaven ... The game world is also divided into day and night, ultimately how to make the game by the players themselves decide to make their own. You can get resources from different places to build your own castle, synthesize your own tools, equipment, furniture, and needs. Every inch of the ground game can be destroyed, as long as you have free time, you dig the whole map into the hole no one tubes you. Of course, with the deepening of the game, the resources needed to find a more dangerous place. This is the level of freedom that but the main line is also a very clear and amazing game. The core pleasure of Terraria is its acquisition and natural composition. In terraria world, almost everything you see can be destroyed, and fractions fall as As long as the material and conditions are sufficient, anytime, anywhere it can be synthesized. And don't think this is a medieval fantasy story, as the game progresses, laser swords, circuits, bombs and other high technology can also be used. As for how to synthesize, this is the core pleasure of the game, and constantly discovering and creating new things, everyone to explore it! In fact, the only drawback of the mobile version I think it's nothing to shrink the content, but poor operation. Although the game is very wise optimization, but still can not solve how to place items or elements in the desired location, as well as a good range of multi-angle steps, it also sets the jump button, this can be said to be the biggest failure on the operation. However, it can still be based on its level of freedom and very rich content, as well as a good understanding of the rhythm of the game, being a rare, very enjoyable work of excellence. Besides operating outside the gaming experience and the PC version is not much different. Even if the content shrinks, but the game still gives you a rich enough time to kill the big content. There is no doubt that this is a job not to be missed. If a conditional player can consider with a handle ... This touch screen operation is really uncomfortable. - I'm APKAward.com APKAward.com
